Programmes

Mental health centre in Lviv

3,180 individual consultations, 47 therapy groups, 412 group participants. Average wait for a first consultation: 6 days. 68 % of clients completed the full 10–12 session course.

Online support

4,260 consultations across 19 oblasts. Average wait 4.2 days against the planned 3. 38 % of clients work without video.

Rehabilitation rotations

11 rotations, 468 participants. Anxiety scores fell at the end of a rotation for 69 % of children.

Veterans stream

The pilot closed in November: six groups and two residential programmes. Retention to the sixth meeting was 74 % in groups with a veteran facilitator against 41 % where a specialist led alone. The sample is small and the comparison uncontrolled — the model is not confirmed and measurement continues.

Use of funds

| Line                                 | Share |
|--------------------------------------|-------|
| Direct programme costs               | 74 %  |
| Administrative salaries              | 14 %  |
| Rent and running costs of the centre | 7 %   |

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Monitoring, evaluation, audit, communications | 5 % |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|

The administrative share rose from 11 % to 14 %. The reason: we hired a finance director and a safeguarding focal point — two posts without which institutional donor requirements cannot be met.

What was not achieved

1. The permanent space for the veterans programme did not open: no premises meeting the accessibility requirements were found within the rental budget.
2. The online waiting time did not fall to the planned three days.
3. The beneficiary feedback system went live in October instead of March, so the year's data is incomplete.

Complaints

Four reports were received: two concerning staff conduct, one concerning accommodation at a rotation, and one found to fall outside the scope of the policies. All were handled within the stated timescales.

Audit

The 2025 financial statements were audited by an external firm selected competitively. The opinion is unmodified.
